Feature Website

Artisans of the Valley

"Artisans of the Valley" located in Pennington, NJ is our featured customer website this quarter. Father and son, Stanley and Eric Saperstein, provide museum quality furniture, (period and original design), hand carving, sculpture, and handmade walking sticks; all by commission. Their portfolio features an extensive array of antique restoration and conservation projects, modern furniture refinishing, and onsite furniture touch-up services.

Stanley served a seven year apprenticeship with C.N. "Larry" Grinnell, the last woodworker of the well-known Grinnell family, who among other long standing traditions has passed down the trade of woodcarving and furniture making from 1614. Now, Stanley strives to fulfill a promise to his teacher by passing on this long standing heritage to Eric, his son.

"Artisans of the Valley" thrives on the creation of period furniture, each piece provides Stan and Eric an opportunity to challenge their skills and concentrate on crafting a work of art. Period furniture, as artwork, reflects the personality of the designers and craftsman that create these pieces. In their words, "we are fashioning the antiques of the future, works that will last through daily use for generations".

Furniture and woodworking requires attention and care to last generations and hold its value, yet seems to be one of the most neglected items in homes and buildings. Artisans of the Valley enters 2007 with the introduction of a new division to be known as "Smooth Finish", lead by their newest member Terry Tonte.

Terry will be providing "nick and bang" repair; battling the unrelenting daily "dog chews", overactive children causing untimely wear and tear, scratch removal, cleaning and waxing services on any household or commercial woodwork. They will evaluate your furniture to determine the proper course of action; providing onsite repair service or recommending a full restoration in their studio. They have recently completed a Mohawk Wood Touch-Up and Repair Workshop and maintain a complete array of Mohawk's professional furniture touch-up products.

Visit the Artisans of the Valley website showcasing their impressive woodworking craft.
